NEW ECB PREMISES

Installation of a mock-up building

Within the scope of the Planning Phase for the new premises of the European Central Bank (ECB), a mock-up building is currently being installed at the ECB's future site. The two-storey mock-up will show a sample of the internal finishes, as well as the high-rise façade of a middle section of the south office tower and the adjacent atrium, at a scale of 1:1. The purpose of the mock-up building is to verify the technical, functional and architectural details of the façade and the internal design.

The façade of the mock-up building is scheduled to be completed by mid-October 2007.
