Amendment of the Charter for the Dialogue

27 June 2023

Dialogue with the banking industry on ESCB statistics
Background and rationale for the amendment

- Objective of the Dialogue in accordance with the current Charter: “The Dialogue between the members of the Statistics Committee of the European System of Central Banks (ESCB) and the banking industry is a forum to discuss new and ongoing initiatives in the field of ESCB statistics.”

- In line with the aim to harmonise and integrate prudential, resolution and statistical reporting requirements, the Dialogue could evolve towards the inclusion of topics on integrated reporting, such as those related to:
  - Banks’ Integrated Reporting Dictionary (BIRD)
  - The Integrated Reporting Framework (IReF)
  - The future Joint Bank Reporting Committee (JBRC)
  - Other topics, including supervisory topics that demonstrate integration
Background and rationale for the amendment (cont’d)

- Important to involve all relevant stakeholders in the Dialogue
  - Opening to authorities responsible for supervisory reporting

- At the same time, we need to minimise overlaps with other initiatives, such as the Supervisory Reporting Conference (even though some topics are relevant for several fora)

  → Participation from the authorities’ side to be extended beyond ESCB?
  → To be reflected in the Charter?
Proposal and possible way forward

• Proposal: light amendment of the Charter:
  - Extending the scope to integration of regulatory reporting, and
  - Amending the membership rules to cover also supervisory authorities outside ESCB

• If agreed, amendment to be done by end-2023

• Procedure for the amendment still to be clarified
  - Including possible approval by the ECB decision-making bodies
